

SIGN-UP SHEET FOR INDIVIDUAL OFFICE HOURS

YOUR NAME _____
(with pronunciation guide, if needed!):

In legible handwriting, please tell us, in order of priority, with which faculty you'd like to schedule individual office hours. If you are roughly indifferent, please note that too. Our goal is to sign up each interested camper for meeting two faculty; it is possible we will sign somebody up for three. Please list more than two, since it is very unlikely we'll be able to find perfect matches. Note also: 1) You're not required to schedule office hours (but almost all students do ...) and 2) you're not allowed to sign up for faculty at your home institution.

Next, please state the topic you'd like to discuss in one to five sentences. Be more specific than "experiments" or "reference points," but keep it within this sign-up sheet. Say if this is a nascent idea, developed research, or something you have a paper on, etc. If applicable, say whether the topic or your interest is in theory, observational-empirical, lab-experimental, field-experimental, etc. You are also more than welcome to propose different topics for different faculty—in that case note which faculty you'd prefer for each topic.

For reference: Subject to change, David and Matthew each have up to 16 thirty-minute slots, Frank will have up to 8, Stefano, George, and Ulrike up to 5, and Lise and Stefanie up to 3.

Richard will have drop-in/group office hours as noted on the schedule, and others of us may announce some as well per demand. These will all be 60-90 minutes, shorter if nobody is any longer in attendance. We ask you to tentatively list what group office hours you anticipate being interested in. This is to allow us to (imperfectly) try to schedule your office hours to avoid conflicts. Listing the group office hours you are interested in is not for signing-up purposes. We will ask you to sign-up for those in the morning of the group office hours just to get a sense for attendance and for logistics. You can also come without signing up. You are allowed to attend as many of these as you like.

Please ideally turn this in to Matthew today, either at the back table during the sessions or lunch, or directly to Matthew at beginning of dinner (6.30 pm). This is especially important if you wish to include Stefano on your list, but useful in any event. Otherwise, please turn them in at the back table by 9.30 tomorrow. No exceptions! You are also welcome—and encouraged, since it will improve the matching process—to send a PDF (typed into Word version we send and compiled into PDF, or a scanned copy of your responses on the PDF we send.) PDF ONLY! We will announce all or of the schedule (or first several days of it) asap.
